GERMANS RETIRE ON SEVENTEEN-MILE FRONT

LONDON. September 7.—Field Marshal Haig's troops have forced the Germans to retire a considerable distance along a front of about seventeen miles extending from Havrincourt wood to Beauvois, according to the War Office announcement to-night. They have also taken a strategic point around which there has been much fighting on the west band of the Canal du Nord, on the way to Cambrai. The statement follows:

"On the whole front south of Havrincourt the German retreat continues under close and constant pressure of our troops. We have reached the line of Beauvois-Boisel and Havrincourt wood.

"In frequent encounters with the German rear guards our advanced detachments are taking prisoners and inflicting numerous casualties on the enemy. [By Associated Press.]

morthward, the British penetrated the western part of Hacrincourt wood, taking prisoners as they progressed.

In Flanders, the British are pushing toward Messines, near the southern end of the Messines Ridge, and they advanced their lines last night a short distance in the direction of the town.

North of La Bassee Canal, on the Flanders front, British pairols made headway in the enemy positions in the vicinity of Canteleux and Violaines.

The statement reads:

"Our troops made further progressy yesterday evening and last night east and northeast of Peronne and have taken Hancourt, Sorel-le-Grand and Metz-en-Couture. North of the last named village we have penetrated the western portions of Havrincourt wood. We have taken a number of prisoners.

No Defence Commons And Compile of Commons and No Defense Germans Are Capable of Constructing Can Withstand Allied Smashing Thrusts.

LONDON. September 7.—The past week sets a new mark for Foch's tactical successes. The British rupture of the Wotan line has demonstrated that no defense line the Germans are capable of constructing can withstand the allies, while the French-American capture of the Terny-Sorny plateru forced the retreat of the enemy from the Vesle. The British crossing of the Canal du Nord, fifty yards wide, with a fifty-foot stonewall on the sides and containing no water was likewise a brilliant war achievement.

The week's summary shows a German retreat on a 175-mile front to a depth of from one to seventeen miles, shortening the front by thirty miles. The British contesting ninety miles of the present 145-mile battle front, reclaimed 330 square miles, one-fourth of which is in the Lys sector, where the enemy retreated from one to six miles on a twenty-mile front.
